THE COMMONWEALTH’S STATEWIDE PLATFORM FOR INFORMATION AND REFERRALS

2020 ANNUAL REPORT

Get Connected. Get Answers.
In 2006 the Council of Massachusetts United Ways created Mass2-1-1, a statewide, free information and referral hotline available 24/7, 365 days a year for the people of the Commonwealth. Today I am pleased to report that Mass2-1-1 is healthy and growing.

Mass2-1-1 helps Massachusetts residents find programs to support basic needs like food, housing, and utility assistance as well as resources for important non-emergency needs such as developmental screening for a child, home health care, job training, or free tax filing.

This year we responded to 285,514 calls and supported 683,048 website views from people seeking information. Mass2-1-1’s Call2Talk mental health help line received 76,251 additional calls from people in need of emotional support or experiencing suicidal ideation.

In partnership with the Massachusetts Emergency Management Agency (MEMA) and Department of Public Health, Mass2-1-1 extended its program in March 2020 to serve as the official COVID-19 hotline for Massachusetts, sharing information about symptoms, testing, and quarantine while also helping callers access critical human service programs.

The collaboration between the United Way and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts allows Mass2-1-1 to access sufficient stable resources to continue this vital service well into the future. Mass2-1-1 works in partnership with MEMA, the Department of Early Education and Care (EEC), and the Executive Office of Health & Human Services (EOHHS).

People continue to call the easy-to-remember, three-digit 2-1-1 number from landlines and cell phones across Massachusetts. The Mass2-1-1 HelpSteps smartphone app provides yet another access point to resources. We also maintain a publicly-accessible online database at www.mass211.org. Mass2-1-1 is accessible in over 150 languages.

None of this would be possible without the dedicated work of our Mass2-1-1 Information & Referral Specialists, Call2Talk volunteer call takers, and those who support them. Eileen Davis and her team consistently help thousands of callers every week, so I thank them for their efforts. Lastly, there would be no Mass2-1-1 in the Commonwealth without the support of our local United Ways. Their consistent support has made the Mass2-1-1 story a reality in our state. Thank you to each of our United Way Partners who are listed on the back of this report.

Gratefully,

Mass2-1-1’s impact is far-reaching. Children are enrolled in quality childcare programs to increase school readiness. Families maintain housing and the stability that comes with having a roof over their head and a safe, comfortable home. People find food pantries and meal programs to support health and nutrition. assessment and placement of runaway youth when juvenile court is closed.

After locating a runaway youth, local police officers can contact the Mass2-1-1 RAP hotline and trained specialists will help them find Emergency Service Providers and Alternative Lockup Programs to avoid keeping young adults in a police station holding cell until the courts re-open in the morning or after a weekend or holiday.

DISASTER/EMERGENCY INFORMATION

Mass2-1-1 partners with the Massachusetts Emergency Management Agency and local offices of emergency management to provide citizens with critical information and non-emergency assistance before, during and after statewide or local emergency or disaster events. The Mass2-1-1 Emergency and Disaster Services Line relieves pressure on 9-1-1 and emergency response teams by providing call center services for citizens needing critical non-emergency up-to-date public health and safety information and referrals to post-disaster programs and services.

Mass2-1-1 also supports mass transportation services during severe weather or other events by acting as a backup contact center to existing mass transit public information services.

CALL2TALK

Call2Talk is the United Way and Mass2-1-1’s mental health and suicide prevention hotline.

The Massachusetts Department of Public Health reports 631 completed suicides for 2015. In the same year there were 3,967 hospital discharges and 7,180 emergency department visits for non-fatal self-inflicted injuries.

Despite these statistics, many mental health professionals cannot accept additional clients, day programs are at capacity and in-patient units have a reduced number of beds. The need for mental health and emotional support services has never been more critical.

Communities with helplines demonstrate a reduced burden to first responders for self-inflicted injuries. The United Way of Tri-County founded the Call2Talk program in 2014 to provide a confidential and lifesaving service which offers support to people experiencing emotional distress or potential suicidal ideation and have nowhere else to turn.
The single most powerful human need is to connect with others. Trained call-takers help people find their voice, listening and connecting with them without judgment to give them hope.

Call2Talk answers calls through Mass2-1-1, its direct telephone line and is a certified National Suicide Prevention Lifeline call center. It also answers texts in partnership with Crisis Text Line.

TELECHECK

A phone check-in service for elder adults operated in partnership with BayPath Elder Services and Advocates, Inc. Trained call-takers contact older adults each week to provide support and friendly conversation following sudden life changes.

METROWEST LOSSTEAM

The MetroWest LOSSteam works with area police departments to offer immediate on-site peer emotional support to suicide loss survivors.

MetroWest LOSSteam service area covers the following towns: Ashland, Holliston, Hopkinton, Hudson, Sherborn, Sudbury
